

Academic profile

Diana Vicher has a Phd in Political and Social Sciences (Public Administration) with Honorable Mention from the NATIONAL AUTONOMOUS UNIVERSITY OF MEXICO. She did a post-doctorate in Financial Economics at the UNAM Faculty of Economics.

-She is recognized as a Level 1 National Researcher by the National System of Researchers (SNI), CONACYT.

-She is a professor of the Postgraduate Program in Political and Social Sciences at the National Autonomous University of Mexico. She belongs to the academic nucleus of the Master in Management, Development and Government of the University of Guanajuato.

-She has participated in various research projects, conferences and international seminars on public administration in Latin America. And, likewise, she has organized national and international academic meetings to contribute to the analysis and discussion of classic and current issues around public administration.

-She has published three books of personal authorship, 21 articles, 10 book chapters and coordinated and edited 7 texts on the most relevant topics in public administration.

- She has participated in different admission and evaluation committees at the undergraduate and postgraduate levels, as well as reviewing study plans, research projects and opinions in national and international journals.